

7 QUESTIONS ABOUT WeRateDogs

@dog_rates

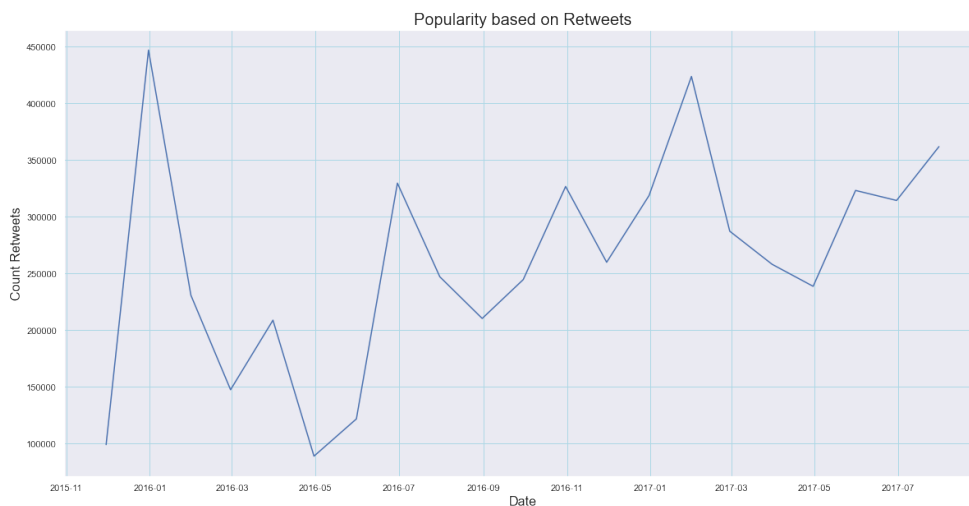

This Twitter account has now 8.9M followers and is fully dedicated to rate, professionally, photos and videos of dogs with a very unique method of rating were most of the evaluated get over the maximum of 10 points and it's active since 2015.

For this report I asked myself 7 questions about the data I could obtained from 3 different sources and of course that I will share with you the results, and some images of the best dogs!

by Patricia Chandía

Q1: What about the popularity (Count of Retweets) of the @WeRateDogs Twitter account over time?

Data from 2015 to 2017

As you can see, there has been high peaks and low periods of time, but in the end the popularity still going up and the community of followers is still increasing.

Q2: What about the most retweeted dog?

This champion got 79,515 RT... What is that sparkle in that dog?

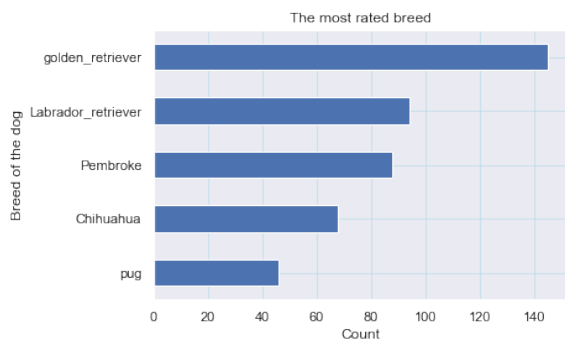

This friend is a big boy (doggo) and a Labrador Retriever that realized that you can stand inside a pool.

Rate: 13/10 (I told you this is a unique rating system) and the video is by Tina Conrad.

https://twitter.com/dog_rates/status/744234799360020481

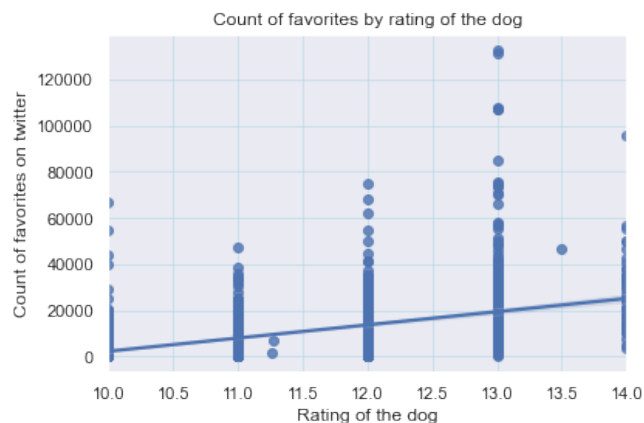

Q3: What are the top 5 most rated breeds?

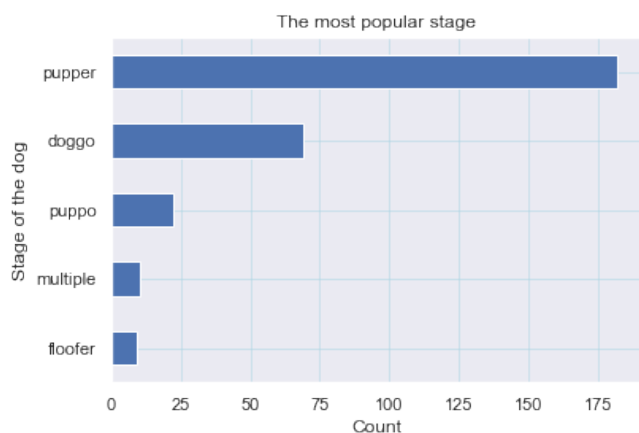

The most popular breed is Golden Retriever, follow by Labrador Retriever (those two are much alike), then Pembroke, Chihuahua and Pug.

Q5: Are the high rated dogs the ones who are most favorited on twitter?

This is an interesting question because the relationship appears to be not that strong.

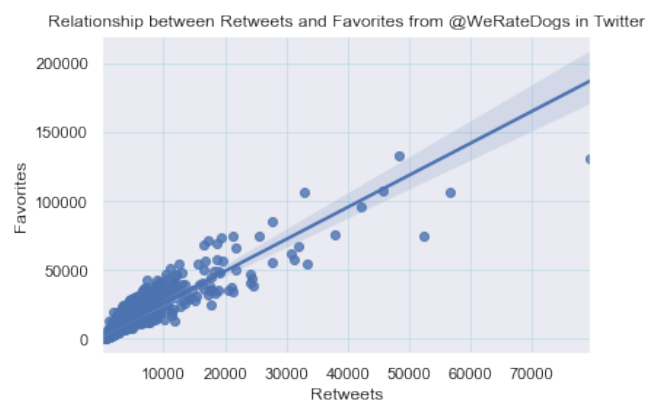

Q4: What is the most popular stage in dog's life?

As you can guess, those puppies are the most beautiful baby animals, so the pictures of them are the majority.

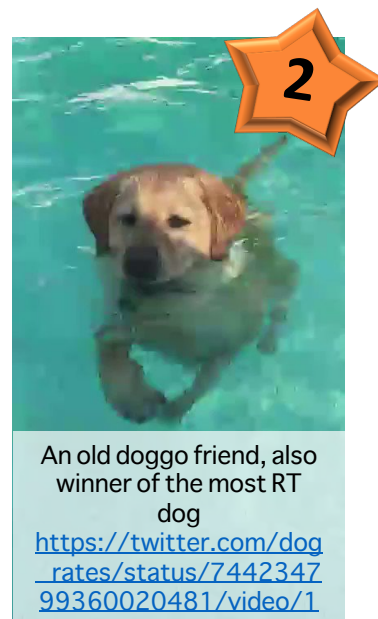

Q6: Is there a relationship between retweets and favorites?

The “of course” answer is demonstrated: Count of favorites and retweets are strongly related.

FINAL QUESTION!

Q7: Who are the most favorited dogs (Top 5)?

...and the winner is TOP 1

Here's a super supportive puppo Lakeland Terrier, participating in the Toronto (Canada) Womens March! #WomensMarch